

Family Law Practice Is a Cut Above

Cohen Rabin Stine Schumann LLP

The 11 Times Square building in Midtown is, without a doubt, among New York City's most stunning real estate. Its open, dynamic, leading-edge design reflects the creative genius and pursuit of excellence for which New York City is universally known.

The building also mirrors the caliber, character and culture of one of its newest occupants, the preeminent family law firm of Cohen Rabin Stine Schumann LLP.

Led by its four founding partners, Harriet Newman Cohen, Bonnie E. Rabin, Martha Cohen Stine and Gretchen Beall Schumann, the firm practices at the forefront of family law. Its casework is both high stakes and far reaching, including complex financial matters involving the city's top CEOs, business owners, legal and other professionals as well as their spouses and partners. Its list of prominent clients includes Governor Andrew Cuomo, NBA star Paul George, and actors Linda Lavin and Laurence Fishburne, among many others. In the eyes of state and federal judges, fellow attorneys, and clients past and present, Cohen Rabin Stine Schumann is in a class all its own.

Seasoned Lawyers, Measured Approach

The attorneys of Cohen Rabin Stine Schumann are legal scholars who thrive on intellectual challenges. They are also battle-hardened experts in all aspects of family law, including divorce and custody matters, prenuptial and postnuptial contracts, cohabitation and separation agreements, same-sex family issues, and Hague Convention cases involving international child custody disputes.

From the left: Lindsay Pfeffer, Tim James, Martha Cohen Stine, Robert Pagano, Harriet Newman Cohen, Paul C. Kurland, Bonnie Rabin, Vicki Poupouridis, Gretchen Beall Schumann, Amanda Laird Creegan, Laura Tucker

The firm's reputation, cultivated over many years of meticulous and uncompromising legal work, extends to its manner as well. Its attorneys are recognized by clients, adversaries, the bench and bar as being both civil and tough—a singularly effective combination for negotiation or, if necessary, litigation.

Devoted to Work and to Clients' Well-Being

The firm's four partners take great pride

At the Forefront of Family Law

- Harriet Newman Cohen: Top 50 Women New York–Metro Super Lawyer (2007-2014); Top 100 New York Super Lawyer (2010, 2012-2014); AV Preeminent® (Martindale-Hubbell®)
- Bonnie E. Rabin: Top 50 Women New York–Metro Super Lawyer (2012); Super Lawyer (2007-2009, 2011-2014); AV Preeminent® (Martindale-Hubbell®)
- Martha Cohen Stine: New York–Metro Super Lawyer (2012-2014) and AV Preeminent® (Martindale-Hubbell®)
- Gretchen Beall Schumann: New York–Metro Super Lawyer (2013-2014) and Rising Star (pre-2013)
- All associates have been named "Rising Stars" in the fact that they have practiced law together for many years with camaraderie and skill.

"We master our clients' needs and wants, and we master the strategy that's going to achieve their goals," Cohen says. "We don't shy away from litigation if that's what it takes. Judges seek us out because our word is our bond, and we know how to settle and try cases in a very respectful way. We take great pride in practicing law at the highest level."

"The lights are burning 24/7," Rabin says. "We are here delving deeply into every case and every legal complexity to meet our clients' needs. We also relish our work as counselors. We are committed and discreet."

"Our clients' hopes for a brighter future are what keep us going," Stine adds. "We're dedicated to bringing clients from a dark place to a place where they can begin living the rest of their lives."

"There's a great esprit de corps here," Schumann says. "We have a shared sense of purpose and satisfaction in advocating on behalf of clients' interests and seeing them through tough times."

The promise of outstanding legal work is only part of the value Cohen Rabin Stine Schumann offers those involved in sensitive family matters. The attorneys' dedication to their clients—and to creating an intelligent and positive atmosphere befitting their beautiful new space in Times Square—yields far greater rewards.

COHEN RABIN STINE SCHUMANN LLP

11 Times Square | 10th Floor | West 41st Street & Eighth Avenue | New York, NY 10036 | 212-512-0825 | crsrlaw.com